Story of Berwick Direct From Thomas Huden.

S. S. TRI-COLOR FOR CHINA

Takes Three and One-half Million
Feet of Lumber—St. Nicholas to be Fitted for Alaska at Once—Della
Disappointed—Other Dock Notes.

Word was received in this city yesterday from Tom Huden, second engineer of the motor schooner Berwick, which is now ashore on the North Spit at Siuslaw, in which he tells his mother, Mrs. Belle Huden, that all are well on board, including Arthur Rich, the chief-engineer, (also of this city), and that since she went ashore there the other day, they have moved her 150 feet over the spit sands toward the Siuslaw river and hope to accomplish the task in the course of another week. He says it looks as though the Berwick likes this particular spot for going ashore, as this is the second time she has piled up on it. She is high and dry on the north beach of the Siuslaw, about one mile from the Government jetty. The accident that threw her on the beach was caused by a heavy sea washing aboard and flooded and stopping the port engine, the other failing her soon after. She is a good ship yet, he says, and will soon be safely afloat.

"The pup" of the marine fleet of this port, the Della, Captain Bob. Jones, went to sea yesterday morning at one o'clock, with a flood of moonshine and a smooth bar, and was heading down the coast for Nestucca in good fashion, when the wind hauled into the south west and freshened so that she was compelled to scuttle back to port and tie up, much to the disgust of Captain Jones. She will try it again at a favorable moment.

The American ship St. Nicholas, now in winter quarters in Young's Bay, will have her rigging set up by a gang of riggers, on Monday next, and she will then be brought round into the harbor to the Elmore docks and coaled after which she will be put in through condition for her voyage to Nushagak, Alaska, in the interest of the Columbia River Packers' Association.

The Norwegian steamship Tri-Color arrived down from Portland early yesterday morning, and cleared from this port during the day, with 3,554,514 feet of lumber on board for Shanghai, China. She went below during the afternoon, and it is presumed made her way out over the bar, if conditions were favorable for such a mighty cargo as hers.

Somebody tired to get away with the hull of the steamer Volga early yesterday morning as she lay at her berth on the inshore side of the big O. R. & N. pier, and would have succeeded, perhaps, but for an obstruction in the tide-way, which compelled her purloiners to desist. No clues.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder arrived down from Portland at four o'clock yesterday morning, with plenty of business for her California ports of call and went to sea at nine o'clock.

The Maverick, of the oil fleet, is due in this port tomorrow, from San Francisco, Portland bound with fuel oil.

The flag-ship Lurline is to come back on the Astoria-Portland run on Monday next, relieving the Undine.

The oil tank steamer Argyle is due in port at any hour from the California coast.

The steamer Hanalei is due down from Portland tonight or tomorrow morning, en route to the Bay City.

ALLWINS ARE ALL WINNERS.

The Zapf Hardware & Furniture Company, of this city, has just put on the market the best and nicest baby go-cart for the money ever heard of in Astoria. It is the Allwin, and is to be had at the modest figure of $5.25. It is one of the easiest riders in carriages, and the baby that is indulged with one dimples all over every time it goes out. It runs smooth as silk and folds up till it is almost unrecognizable. Call and examine one before putting money into something not nearly so satisfactory. The Allwins are all winners, sure enough!

Staff decorations are now being placed on several of the buildings at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition.

Those who enjoy looking upon an actor, handsome in face and form and capable in his art, will be pleased with Eugene Wiener, the tenor of the San Francisco Opera Company which will be seen at the Astoria Theatre in "The Toymaker," Sunday night, Mar. 22nd. Mr. Wiener is not alone the possessor of a most beautiful tenor voice, but he is a splendid actor as well, requirements that are very essential to the success of a comic opera tenor.

"The Toymaker."

Arthur A. Greene, writing under date of Wednesday, October 23, 1907, in the Portland "Oregonian", had the following to say of the San Francisco Opera Company; the organization that will present "The Toymaker" at the Astoria Theatre, Sunday Night, March 22nd.

"After an absence of three or four months the San Francisco Opera Company returned to Portland last night, opening at the Marquam in the erstwhile Frank Daniels' success, 'The Idol's Eye.'"

There has never been but one side to the story as the San Francisco Company is concerned with local theatre-goers. The organization has been "aces up" ever since its first appearance here. There has never been a theatrical company that has been a more general favorite with the local public, and last night, when the Marquam was packed with a friendly audience, the company was given a reception that must have done the hearts of the company and the management considerable good. There was no question as to the cordiality of the greeting. Portland is very partial to the San Francisco Company, and it does not care who knows it."

BOSTON, March 21.—The condition of Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., is extremely critical tonight, although there is a little actual change since last evening.

It is freely admitted at the State House that this illness has reached the stage that it is a question of life or death with the chances apparently against recovery.
